2nd Sunday of Lent

Heaven and earth converge in the Transfiguration in the Gospel of Mark 9:2-10. Jesus led Peter, James, and John to the solitude of a high mountain where Jesus was transfigured before them. His clothes become an unearthly white; brighter than any cleaner on earth could bleach them. Immediately Moses and Elijah appear and talk with Jesus. Shaken by the visible presence of these prophets of old and the glory radiating from Jesus, Peter struggles with fear (as did the other apostles) and how to respond. Finally, he offers to make a tent for Jesus, Moses, and Elijah. A bright cloud overshadowed them. The voice of God speaks: "This is my beloved Son. Listen to him." As suddenly as the Transfiguration began it ended leaving Peter, James, and John alone with Jesus. Coming down the mountain Jesus tells them not to tell anyone of the events until the time is right (after He has been raised from the dead). These words cause the apostles to wonder what rising from the dead means.

As the disciples spent time alone with Jesus, the light of God shone through Jesus, and they could see Moses and Elijah. Jesus wants to spend time with us, alone on the mountain of prayer so that we can see and be what we could not before. In prayer we are transformed by His heavenly light. Afterward, we shine with renewed patience, love, and are inspired to do an act(s) of kindness. Sometimes we gain wisdom in how to act or see a part of scripture in a new way. When we come down from the mountain, we are to meditate on what we have been shown or act on the fruits of His Spirit. His light will shine through us as we pray, fast, and give alms and others are touched by Him through us. "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father who is in heaven" (Mt 5:16). God directed the apostles and us to listen to Jesus. Will you spend time in solitude with Jesus this Lent?
